

CMCI in D.C.

Challenge yourself, hone your professional skills and explore one of America's most dynamic cities through CMCI in D.C. In this immersive experience, you'll complete a customized internship in a field aligned with your aspirations while taking classes and exploring cultural, artistic and sports hotspots in Washington.

CMCI in D.C. offers:

Customized internship | Full semester of CMCI course credits

College of Media, Communication and Information

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT

CMCI in D.C. is ideal for juniors and seniors interested in an immersive study-internship experience away from Boulder without leaving the country. Applicants to the program interview with CMCI and our Washington Media Institute partner to ensure they are placed in an internship that helps them grow their professional skills.

Full course load. You'll take 15 credits (in fall or spring) or 9 (in summer). Since you take CMCI courses, you don't need to transfer credits from another institution.

Count on connections. You'll meet industry experts both at work and in class, giving you a one-of-a-kind network.

The good life. You'll live in a furnished corporate apartment in one of Washington's most vibrant neighborhoods.

Internship experiences

The customized internships are the most exciting feature of CMCI in D.C. At work, you'll make invaluable contacts and build a project portfolio to guide your job search and early career.

Recent internship experiences have included:

CNN | National Gallery | Department of Defense | Smithsonian |
Brookings Institution | ABC News | Sirius XM | U.S. Congress |
World Wildlife Foundation | Voice of America | The Hill |
United Nations Foundation

Applications to CMCI in D.C. are accepted for the fall, spring and summer terms. Get started now at colorado.edu/cmci/dc.
